

Product 08004000 Copper tape self-adhesive, for conductive VIASOL systems

1 General data

Field of application

VIASOL copper tape is used as self-adhesive tape for connecting the conductive layer in conductive VIASOL systems with the earth point.

Product description

VIASOL copper tape is a self-adhesive tape based on conductive copper to connect conductive and dissipative coating systems to earth (potential equalization).

Application

VIASOL copper tape is stucked on the prepared and primed substrate or on a levelling layer and pressed on the surface with a rubber roller. Subsequently, the conductive layer is applied over the copper tape.

The quantity of the copper tape is depending on the area and the ambient of the rooms.
